

Rowan Holiday Homework

Over the summer break, your task is to begin researching all about Viking shields. You will need to think about what materials they were made from, how they were designed and other additional facts and information that you can find.

Once you have completed this part of the task, you will need to plan, design and create your own Viking shield. How you create your shield is up to you. You may create it out of cardboard (cereal boxes and other packaging) or simply draw and label your design on a piece of A3 or A4 paper. The more creative your designs are the better.

You will be able to show and talk about your amazing shields at the start of next term. Have fun!
